Kia ora koutou Tinui School whānau and friends!

What an awesome cross country on Monday! With the trees at the back of the field cut down, the spectacle of the runners traversing up and down the hills was truly fantastic! Many parents commented on how different the vista was and they couldn't work out why. Yet again Tinui students have performed really well and several of our year 4-8 students have qualified to run tomorrow in the Wairarapa school's cross country being held at Tauherenikau Racecourse. They are Izzy Wellbrock, Tama Ratima, Jack Higginbottom, Max Williams, Jock Johnson, Patrick Wellbrock, Zarn Beaver, Pia White, Troy Forbes, Marshall Ellis, and Izayah Beaver. Well done to all of those runners and good luck tomorrow. This sort of achievement reflects the E for excellence and S for success in our RESPECT values. I will be there to manage the Rural Schools team and to cheer them on.

I'd like to thank all parents and school friends who acted as marshals, helped clean up and who manned the PFC barby and prepared food and drinks. Without your help these events would be difficult to pull off as the logistics can be complex at times. We appreciate you giving up your time.

If you need to contact me please do so at school or on principal@tinui.school.nz

Have a fantastic weekend.

Nga mihi

ROOM 3 Writing.

Yesterday it was cross country. I was so, so, so, so nervous because there was so many kids there but I ran as fast as a mouse. My heart was beating like a lion running. I was nervous like a deer. On the ground there was so much mud in my way but I still ran through it. My mum and sister were there. They were cheering at me saying "Go Keiana!" I came 7th in my race. When I finished my race I had a fizzy drink then I had a play. I asked my mum if I can have a tomato soup. After that we went home.

ROOM 4 Writing.

Once upon there was a 75 year old man called Bob. He had a bowl cut, rotten teeth, and scummy brown hair.

He had never had a wash in his life. Bob lived in the tip because he had no money and no one liked him.

Bob's talent was making people cry because he was covered in rubbish and stank. Bob's problem was he had no money and no one would employ Bob because he did not know how to work and was useless so he just stole everything.

No one liked Bob because he stank and lived at the dump.

One day Bob went for a walk to the tip on the other side of the town and met James who lived there and they came best friends and were not lonely anymore.
